#10, #7 and #8 page 2 of 4

During massive rain we do get water collection in the yard and driveway. Doesn't get very deep, but can take up to 24 hours to drain away. We feel that the city drainage is not adequate.

#12 and #14 page 3 of 4

The floors in the north part of the house are somewhat unlevelled. We don't even notice it anymore.

Crawl space is located under the kitchen sink for the northwest part of the house. The house was added on to at some point because there is a brick foundation in the center of the house. We also installed a crawl space in the NE bedroom to access this part of the house.

Additional Information:

The previous owners told us that the south driveway is ours however they tried to fence it off and the neighbor to the south wanted to use it to get to their backyard. It's my understanding that we own that driveway but we really don't care if they use it.
